Terms and Conditions

Development Environment

In order to facilitate the rapid development and deployment of the clients' project, I will setup a development server and utilize a version control system for all programming code. I will use my own hardware and software to setup this robust development environment.

Hosting

I do not offer hosting services. I work with third parties whose business is to provide hosting. I generally recommend that clients procure a managed hosting solution. Managed hosting can be for a dedicated or virtualized server environment.

Am pleased to inform you that am going to offer you free services since I am a member in this company and doing this as a course work assigned to me.

Respectful Yours;

JOSHUA BUYINZA

IT programmer.
